

BENNION ON STATUTORY INTERPRETATION

5th edition, 2008

Arrangement of Sections

Preface to the 5th edition
Books by Francis Bennion
Contents
The Code: Summary of Parts
The Code: Arrangement of Sections
How to Use this Book
Table of Statutes
Table of Statutory Instruments
Table of Foreign Enactments
Table of European Material
Table of Cases

Introduction 1

Division One. Interpreter, Instrument and Enactment 21

Part I. The Interpreter 23

Preliminary 23

Section 1. To 'construe' or 'interpret'? 23

Section 2. Interpreter's duty to arrive at legal meaning 24

Section 3. Real doubt as to legal meaning 25

Types of interpreter 26

Section 4. Types of interpreter: (1) the legislator 26

Section 5. Types of interpreter: (2) courts and other enforcement agencies 27

Section 6. Types of interpreter: (3) the jurist or text writer 28

Section 7. Types of interpreter: (4) the subject 34

The subject as interpreter 37

Section 8. Duty to obey legislation 37

Section 9. Ignorantia juris neminem excusat 40

Section 10. Mandatory and directory requirements 44

Section 11. Where contracting out and waiver allowed 57

Section 12. Where contracting out and waiver not allowed 60

Section 13. Criminal sanction for disobedience (the offence of contempt of statute) 62

Section 14. Civil sanction for disobedience (the tort of breach of statutory duty) 67

Enforcement agencies 85

Section 15. Administrative or executive agencies 85

Section 16. Authorising agencies 92

Section 17. Investigating agencies 93

Section 18. Prosecuting agencies 95

Section 19. Courts and other adjudicating authorities 101

Section 20. Interpretation by adjudicating authorities 122

Section 21. Doctrine of judicial notice 133

Section 22. Adjudicating authorities with original jurisdiction 138

Section 23. Adjudicating authorities with appellate jurisdiction 142

Section 24. Judicial review 154

- Section 25. Executive agencies ancillary to adjudicating authorities 166
- Section 26. Dynamic processing of legislation by courts and other enforcement agencies 167

Part II. The Instrument to be Interpreted: Acts of Parliament 179

- Section 27. Definition of an Act 179
- Section 28. Types of Act 183
- Section 29. Interpreter's need to understand nature of an Act 191
- Section 30. Temporal, territorial and personal operation of an Act 194
- Section 31. Doctrine of parliamentary sovereignty 197
- Section 32. Overriding effect of an Act 197
- Section 33. Uniqueness of an Act 204
- Section 34. Whether an Act binds the Crown: the doctrine of Crown immunity 206
- Section 35. Need for validation of Act 212
- Section 36. Enactment procedure 213
- Section 37. Royal assent procedure 216
- Section 38. Royal assent (signification) 217
- Section 39. Royal assent (communication) 220
- Section 40. Royal assent (absence or illness of Monarch) 222
- Section 41. Royal assent (demise of the Crown) 223
- Section 42. Royal assent (regency) 223
- Section 43. Validation under Parliament Acts 1911 and 1949 (money Bills) 223
- Section 44. Validation under Parliament Acts 1911 and 1949 (other Bills) 224
- Section 45. Settling of text of Act and promulgation 225
- Section 46. Official published editions of Acts 230

Part III. The Instrument to be Interpreted: Subordinate Legislation 237

Prerogative instruments 237

- Section 48. Nature of a prerogative instrument 237
- Section 49. Interpretation of a prerogative instrument 240

Delegated legislation 241

- Section 50. Nature of delegated legislation 241
- Section 51. Parliamentary control of delegated legislation 247
- Section 52. Types of delegate: (1) The Sovereign 250
- Section 53. Types of delegate: (2) Privy Council 251
- Section 54. Types of delegate: (3) House of Commons 251
- Section 55. Types of delegate: (4) Ministers of the Crown 251
- Section 56. Types of delegate: (5) Other functionaries 252
- Section 57. Duties as to exercise of a power to make delegated legislation 253
- Section 58. Ultra vires delegated legislation 254
- Section 59. Delegated legislation: the rule of primary intention 262
- Section 60. Delegated legislation: general interpretative principle 263
- Section 61. Types of delegated legislation: (1) statutory instruments 266
- Section 62. Types of delegated legislation: (2) orders 267
- Section 63. Types of delegated legislation: (3) regulations 268
- Section 64. Types of delegated legislation: (4) rules 268
- Section 65. Types of delegated legislation: (5) byelaws 269
- Section 66. Types of delegated legislation: (6) other instruments 271
- Section 67. Sub-delegation 272
- Section 68. Commencement of delegated legislation 273
- Section 69. Amendment of delegated legislation 274
- Section 70. Revocation of delegated legislation 275

Part IV. Commencement, Amendment and Repeal of Acts 277

Commencement of acts 277

- Section 71. Meaning of 'commencement' 277

- Section 72. Commencement on passing of Act 280
- Section 73. Commencement on date specified in Act 280
- Section 74. Commencement on date or dates specified by government order 283
- Section 75. Commencement of different provisions on different days 286
- Section 76. Preparatory orders etc 286
- Amendment of acts 287
 - Section 77. Meaning of 'amendment' 287
 - Section 78. Textual amendment 288
 - Section 79. Indirect express amendment 292
 - Section 80. Implied amendment 293
 - Section 81. Amendment by delegated legislation 293
 - Section 82. Consequential amendment 295
 - Section 83. References to an amended enactment 298
 - Section 84. Extra-statutory concessions 299
- Repeal or expiry of acts 300
 - Section 85. Meaning of 'repeal' 300
 - Section 86. The practice of 'double' repeal 302
 - Section 87. Implied repeal 304
 - Section 88. Generalia specialibus non derogant 306
 - Section 89. Savings on repeal 307
 - Section 90. Commencement of substituted provisions 310
 - Section 91. Repeal and re-enactment (adaptation of references) 310
 - Section 92. Repeal and re-enactment (preserving delegated legislation) 311
 - Section 93. Repeal and re-enactment (preserving other things done) 311
 - Section 94. Expiry 311
 - Section 95. Desuetude 312
- Transitional provisions 314
 - Section 96. Transitional provisions on repeal, amendment etc 314
- Retrospective operation of acts 315
 - Section 97. Presumption against retrospective operation 315
 - Section 98. Retrospective operation: procedural provisions 320
 - Section 99. Retrospective operation: events occurring over a period 322
 - Section 100. Retrospective operation: delegated powers 324
 - Section 101. Retrospective operation: cause of doubt 325

Part V. Extent and Application of Acts 327

- Territorial extent of an Act 327
 - Section 102. Basic rule as to extent of an Act 327
 - Section 103. The 'extent' of an Act 329
 - Section 104. Uniform meaning throughout area of extent 330
 - Section 105. Composition of an enactment's territory 334
 - Section 106. Presumption of United Kingdom extent 335
 - Section 107. Extent to Her Majesty's independent dominions 338
 - Section 108. Meaning of 'associated state' 340
 - Section 109. Meaning of 'baseline' 340
 - Section 110. Meaning of 'Berwick upon Tweed' 341
 - Section 111. Meaning of 'British Islands' 342
 - Section 112. Meaning of 'British possession' 343
 - Section 113. Meaning of 'The Channel Islands' 343
 - Section 114. Meaning of 'colony' 345
 - Section 115. Meaning of 'England' 346
 - Section 116. Meaning of 'Great Britain' 346
 - Section 117. Meaning of 'Her Majesty's dominions' 348
 - Section 118. Meaning of 'Her Majesty's independent dominions' 350
 - Section 119. Meaning of 'high seas' 350

- Section 120. Meaning of 'internal waters' 351
- Section 121. Meaning of 'Isle of Man' 351
- Section 122. Meaning of 'Monmouthshire' 352
- Section 123. Meaning of 'Northern Ireland' 354
- Section 124. Meaning of 'Scotland' 355
- Section 125. Meaning of 'territorial waters' or 'territorial sea' 356
- Section 126. Meaning of 'United Kingdom' 358
- Section 127. Meaning of 'Wales' 359
- Application of an act to persons and matters 360
 - Section 128. General principles as to application 360
 - Section 129. Application to foreigners and foreign matters within the territory 364
 - Section 130. Application to foreigners and foreign matters outside the territory 371
 - Section 131. Application to Britons and British matters outside the territory 378
 - Section 132. The high seas and other unappropriated territories 385
 - Section 133. Deemed location of an omission 387
 - Section 134. Deemed location of composite act or composite omission 387
 - Section 135. Deemed location of an artificial person 389

Part VI. The Enactment and the Facts 391

- Preliminary 391
 - Section 136. Applying the enactment to the facts 391
- What an enactment is 394
 - Section 137. The unit of inquiry in statutory interpretation 394
 - Section 138. Nature of an 'enactment' 396
 - Section 139. Selective comminution 401
 - Section 140. Challenging an enactment's validity 404
 - Section 141. Precise and disorganised enactments 409
 - Section 142. Drafting presumed competent 413
 - Section 143. The factual outline 416
 - Section 144. The legal thrust 421
- The facts of the instant case 423
 - Section 145. Relevant and irrelevant facts 423
 - Section 146. Proof of relevant facts 427
 - Section 147. Judicial notice of relevant facts 428
 - Section 148. Questions of fact and degree 428
 - Section 149. Opposing constructions of an enactment 429

Division Two. The Legal Meaning of an Enactment 439

Part VII. Grammatical and Strained Constructions 441

- The legal meaning 441
 - Section 150. Nature of the legal meaning 441
- The grammatical meaning 443
 - Section 151. Nature of the grammatical meaning 443
 - Section 152. Grammatical ambiguity (application of interpretative factors) 444
 - Section 153. Grammatical ambiguity (general and relative ambiguity) 447
 - Section 154. Grammatical ambiguity and the opposing constructions 448
 - Section 155. Semantic obscurity and the 'corrected version' 451
 - Section 156. Use of the phrase 'literal meaning' 455
- Strained construction 456
 - Section 157. Nature of strained construction 456
 - Section 158. When strained construction needed 458
 - Section 159. Strained construction as former 'equitable construction' 463
 - Section 160. Repugnancy within the Act 465
 - Section 161. Enactment repugnant to descriptive component of Act 466
 - Section 162. Term or phrase with differing legal meanings 466

Part VIII. Legislative Intention 469

- Section 163. Legislative intention as the paramount criterion 469
- Section 164. Is legislative intention fictitious? 472
- Section 165. Legislative intention and the nature of legislation 474
- Section 166. The duplex approach to legislative intention 477
- Section 167. Legislative intention and delegation to the court 479
- Section 168. Where no actual intention existed 480
- Section 169. Unforeseen facts and accidental fit 482
- Section 170. Intention distinguished from purpose or object 483
- Section 171. Intention distinguished from motive 484

Part IX. Filling in the Textual Detail 487

- Section 172. Nature of a legislative implication 487
- Section 173. Is it legitimate to draw implications? 491
- Section 174. When legislative implications are legitimate 494
- Section 175. When legislative implications affect related law 499
- Section 176. Dynamic processing by the court (stare decisis) 502
- Section 177. Interstitial articulation (general) 504
- Section 178. Interstitial articulation by the advocate 505
- Section 179. Interstitial articulation by the court 505

Part X. Interpretative Criteria and Interpretative Factors 511

Interpretative criteria 511

- Section 180. Nature of the criteria: rules, principles, presumptions, canons 511
- Section 181. Ascertaining the cause of doubt 515
- Section 182. Strict and liberal construction 516

Interpretative factors 519

- Section 183. Nature of an interpretative factor 519
- Section 184. Positive and negative interpretative factors 520
- Section 185. Interpretative factors all pointing one way 521

Weighing the factors 523

- Section 186. Nature of the weighing operation 523
- Section 187. Where legislator has indicated a view about weighting 528
- Section 188. Dealing with grammatical ambiguity 529
- Section 189. Dealing with semantic obscurity 531
- Section 190. Where strained construction needed 533
- Section 191. Coping with changes in legal policy 537

Division Three. Rules of Construction 541

Part XI. Rules of Construction (General) 543

- Section 192. Nature of rules of construction 543
- Section 193. Basic rule of statutory interpretation 544
- Section 194. Duty to respect the juridical nature of an enactment 548
- Section 195. The plain meaning rule 548
- Section 196. Rule where meaning not 'plain' 551
- Section 197. The commonsense construction rule 551
- Section 198. The rule ut res magis valeat quam pereat 558

Part XII. Rules of Construction Laid Down by Statute 561

- Section 199. Statutory definitions 561
- Section 200. The Interpretation Act 1978 575

Part XIII. The Informed Interpretation Rule (General) 585

- Section 201. Statement of the rule 585

- Section 202. The 'context' of an enactment 588
- Section 203. Need to avoid unpredictability and lengthening of proceedings 590
- Section 204. The two-stage approach to statutory interpretation 591
- Section 205. Interpreter's need for legal knowledge 593
- Section 206. Skeleton arguments 593
- Section 207. Admission de bene esse of matter bearing on interpretation 596

Part XIV. The Informed Interpretation Rule (Legislative History) 597

Preliminary 598

- Section 208. Legislative history as a guide to construction 598

Pre-enacting history 599

- Section 209. The basic rule 599
- Section 210. The pre-Act law 599
- Section 211. Consolidation Acts 604
- Section 212. Codifying Acts 608

Enacting history 609

- Section 213. Meaning of enacting history 609
- Section 214. The basic rule 610
- Section 215. Use of sources referred to in Act 612
- Section 216. Use of committee reports leading up to Bill 614
- Section 217. Use of Hansard 616
- Section 218. Use of amendments to Bill 640
- Section 219. Use of explanatory memoranda 641
- Section 220. Special restriction on parliamentary materials (the exclusionary rule) 644
- Section 221. Use of international treaties 682
- Section 222. Judicial use of enacting history 691
- Section 223. Inspection of by court of enacting history 691
- Section 224. Recitals of by advocates of enacting history 693
- Section 225. Adoption as part of advocate's argument 693
- Section 226. Use of enacting history to ascertain Parliament's view of pre-Act law 694
- Section 227. Use to ascertain mischief 696
- Section 228. Use of enacting history as an indication of Parliament's intention 697
- Section 229. Enacting history as persuasive authority only 698
- Section 230. Not binding authority 701

Post-enacting history 702

- Section 231. The basic rule 702
- Section 232. Use of official statements on meaning of Act 702
- Section 233. Use of delegated legislation made under Act 706
- Section 234. Use of later Acts in pari materia 708
- Section 235. Use of judicial decisions on Act 710
- Section 236. Use of committee reports on Act 711
- Section 237. Use of commentaries on Act 712

Part XV. The Functional Construction Rule 713

Statement of the rule 713

- Section 238. Statement of the rule 713

Operative components of Act 718

- Section 239. Nature of operative components 718
- Section 240. The section 719
- Section 241. The Schedule 721
- Section 242. The proviso 723
- Section 243. The saving 725

Amendable descriptive components of Act 727

- Section 244. Nature of amendable descriptive components 727
- Section 245. The long title 727

- Section 246. The preamble 731
- Section 247. The purpose clause 734
- Section 248. The recital 735
- Section 249. The short title 735
- Section 250. Examples 739
- Unamendable descriptive components of Act 741
 - Section 251. Nature of unamendable descriptive components 741
 - Section 252. Chapter number 741
 - Section 253. Date of passing 744
 - Section 254. Enacting formula 744
 - Section 255. Heading 745
 - Section 256. Section name (sidenote, heading or title) 747
 - Section 257. Format 749
 - Section 258. Punctuation 751
- Incorporation of provisions by reference 758
 - Section 259. Nature of incorporation by reference 758
 - Section 260. Archival drafting 759
 - Section 261. Acts construed as one 762
 - Section 262. Collective titles 764

Division Four. Interpretative Principles Derived from Legal Policy 767

Part XVI. Interpretative Principles (General) 769

- Section 263. Nature of legal policy 769
- Section 264. Law should serve the public interest 786
- Section 265. Law should be just and fair 795
- Section 266. Law should be certain and predictable 799
- Section 267. Law should not operate retrospectively 807
- Section 268. Law should be coherent and self-consistent 808
- Section 269. Law should not be subject to casual change 812
- Section 270. Municipal law should conform to international law 817

Part XVII. Principle against doubtful penalisation 825

- Section 271. Principle against penalisation under a doubtful law 825
- Section 272. Statutory interference with human life or health 831
- Section 273. Statutory restraint of the person 836
- Section 274. Statutory interference with family rights 840
- Section 275. Statutory interference with religious freedom 842
- Section 276. Statutory interference with free assembly and association 843
- Section 277. Statutory interference with free speech 844
- Section 278. Statutory interference with economic interests 846
- Section 279. Statutory interference with status or reputation 851
- Section 280. Statutory interference with privacy 852
- Section 281. Statutory interference with rights of legal process 853
- Section 282. Other statutory interference with rights as a citizen 858

Division Five. Interpretative Presumptions Based on the Nature of Legislation 861

Part XVIII. Interpretative Presumptions (General) 863

- Section 283. Nature of interpretative presumptions 863
- Section 284. Presumption that text is primary indication of legal meaning 864
- Section 285. Presumption that literal meaning to be followed 864
- Section 286. Presumption that consequential construction to be given 869
- Section 287. Presumption that rectifying construction to be given 875
- Section 288. Presumption that updating construction to be given 889

Part XIX. The Mischief and its Remedy 915

- Section 289. Presumption that court to apply remedy provided for the 'mischief' 915
- Section 290. Meaning of the 'mischief' 916
- Section 291. The resolution in Heydon's Case 918
- Section 292. The social mischief 922
- Section 293. The legal mischief 923
- Section 294. Party-political mischiefs 927
- Section 295. Ambit of the mischief 929
- Section 296. The particular mischief of an enactment 930
- Section 297. The mischief for which Parliament actually legislated 931
- Section 298. Mischief arising only within context of the remedy 933
- Section 299. Phasing out a legal mischief 934
- Section 300. Discerning the mischief 935
- Section 301. Use of the mischief in interpretation 937
- Section 302. Remedy provided for the mischief 940

Part XX. Purposive Construction 943

- Section 303. Presumption that enactment to be given a purposive construction 943
- Section 304. Nature of purposive construction 944
- Section 305. Purposive-and-literal construction 951
- Section 306. Purposive-and-strained construction 955
- Section 307. Statements of purpose 959
- Section 308. Where purpose unknown or doubtful 963
- Section 309. Judicial acceptance of legislator's purpose 963
- Section 310. Purposive construction not excluded for taxing etc Acts 965
- Section 311. British and European versions of purposive construction 966

Part XXI. Construction Against 'Absurdity' 969

- Section 312. Presumption that 'absurd' result not intended 969
- Section 313. Avoiding an unworkable or impracticable result 971
- Section 314. Avoiding an inconvenient result 979
- Section 315. Avoiding an anomalous or illogical result 986
- Section 316. Avoiding a futile or pointless result 999
- Section 317. Avoiding an artificial result 1003
- Section 318. Avoiding a disproportionate counter-mischief 1006

Part XXII. Construction Against Evasion 1009

- Section 319. Presumption that evasion not to be allowed 1009
- Section 320. Evasion distinguished from avoidance 1014
- Section 321. Tax avoidance 1017
- Section 322. Methods of evasion: doing indirectly what must not be done directly 1023
- Section 323. Methods of evasion: deferring liability 1024
- Section 324. Methods of evasion: repetitious acts 1025
- Section 325. Construction which hinders legal proceedings under Act 1026
- Section 326. Construction which otherwise defeats legislative purpose 1027

Part XXIII. Application of Ancillary Rules of Law 1033

- Section 327. Presumption that ancillary rules of law apply 1033
- Section 328. Presumption that rules of constitutional law apply 1042
- Section 329. Presumption that public law decision-making rules apply 1050
- Section 330. Presumption that rules of equity apply 1064
- Section 331. Presumption that rules of contract law apply 1069
- Section 332. Presumption that rules of property law apply 1071
- Section 333. Presumption that rules of tort law apply 1073
- Section 334. Presumption that rules of criminal law apply 1077
- Section 335. Rules of evidence 1086

Section 336. Presumption that rules of private international law (conflict of laws) apply 1097

Part XXIV. Application of Ancillary Legal Maxims 1101

- Section 337. Presumption that ancillary legal maxims apply 1101
- Section 338. Intentions deduced from actions: acta exteriora indicant interiora secreta 1104
- Section 339. Act of God: actus dei nemini facit injuriam 1104
- Section 340. Reliance on illegality: allegans suam turpitudinem non est audiendus 1105
- Section 341. Hearing both sides: audi alteram partem 1111
- Section 342. Double detriment: bona fides non patitur, ut bis idem exigatur 1116
- Section 343. De minimis principle: de minimis non curat lex 1116
- Section 344. Domestic sanctuary: domus sua cuique est tutissimum refugium 1124
- Section 345. Impotence: Impotentia excusat legem 1128
- Section 346. Impossibility: lex non cogit ad impossibilia 1129
- Section 347. Necessity: necessitas non habet legem 1133
- Section 348. Judge in own cause: nemo debet esse iudex in propria causa 1136
- Section 349. Benefit from own wrong: nullus commodum capere potest de injuria sua propria 1141
- Section 350. Presumption of correctness: omnia praesumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta 1144
- Section 351. Agency: qui facit per alium facit per se 1146
- Section 352. Vigilance: vigilantibus non dormientibus leges subveniunt 1149
- Section 353. Volenti principle: volenti non fit injuria 1150

Division Six. Linguistic Canons of Construction 1153

Part XXV. Linguistic Canons of Construction: General 1155

- Section 354. Nature of linguistic canons of construction 1155
- Section 355. Construction of Act or other instrument as a whole 1155
- Section 356. Interpretation of broad terms 1167

Part XXVI. Linguistic Canons of Construction: Use of Deductive Reasoning 1171

- Section 357. Use of deductive reasoning 1171
- Section 358. Nature of deductive reasoning 1171
- Section 359. The hypothetical syllogism 1174
- Section 360. The ambiguous middle term 1175
- Section 361. The principle of contradiction 1177

Part XXVII. Linguistic Canons of Construction: Interpretation of Particular Words and Phrases 1181

- Section 362. Interpretation of individual words and phrases 1181
- Section 363. Ordinary meaning of words and phrases 1181
- Section 364. Composite expressions 1193
- Section 365. Technical terms (general) 1197
- Section 366. Technical legal terms 1199
- Section 367. Technical non-legal terms 1203
- Section 368. Terms with both ordinary and technical meaning 1206
- Section 369. Neologisms and slang 1209
- Section 370. Archaisms 1213
- Section 371. Terms applied in a foreign context 1215
- Section 372. Abbreviations 1216
- Section 373. Homonyms 1217
- Section 374. Meaningless terms 1219
- Section 375. Judicial notice of meaning 1221
- Section 376. Evidence of meaning 1223

Part XXVIII. Linguistic Canons of Construction: Elaboration of Meaning of Words and Phrases 1225

- Section 377. Canon regarding elaboration of meaning of words and phrases 1225
- Section 378. Noscitur a sociis principle 1225
- Section 379. Eiusdem generis principle: description 1231
- Section 380. Eiusdem generis principle: nature of a 'genus' 1234
- Section 381. Eiusdem generis principle: single genus-describing term 1237
- Section 382. Eiusdem generis principle: genus-describing terms followed by wider residuary words 1239
- Section 383. Eiusdem generis principle: genus-describing terms surrounding wider word 1241
- Section 384. Eiusdem generis principle: general words followed by narrower genus-describing terms 1242
- Section 385. Eiusdem generis principle: express exclusion of 1242
- Section 386. Eiusdem generis principle: implied exclusion of 1244
- Section 387. Rank principle 1245
- Section 388. Reddendo singula singulis principle 1247
- Section 389. Expressum facit cessare tacitum 1249
- Section 390. Expressio unius principle: description 1250
- Section 391. Expressio unius principle: words of designation 1252
- Section 392. Expressio unius principle: words providing remedies etc 1254
- Section 393. Expressio unius principle: words of extension 1255
- Section 394. Expressio unius principle: words of exception 1256
- Section 395. Expressio unius principle: where other cause for the expressio 1258
- Section 396. Implication by oblique reference 1259
- Section 397. Implication where statutory description only partly met 1262

Division Seven. Europe 1271

Part XXIX. Community law and the European Court 1273

- Section 398. Interpretation of Part XXIX 1273
- Principles of community law 1275
 - Section 399. General principles of Community law 1275
 - Section 400. Protection of human rights 1276
 - Section 401. Solidarity 1277
 - Section 402. Effectiveness of law 1277
 - Section 403. Legal certainty 1277
 - Section 404. Legitimate expectation 1278
 - Section 405. Treatment of retrospectivity 1279
 - Section 406. Proportionality 1280
 - Section 407. Subsidiarity 1282
- Further provisions as to community law 1282
 - Section 408. Status of Community law 1282
 - Section 409. Proof of Community law 1283
 - Section 410. Interpretation of Community law 1283
 - Section 411. Direct effect of Community law 1287
 - Section 412. Transposing of Community law 1290
 - Section 413. Effect of Community law on UK enactments 1293
- Court of Justice of the European Communities ('CJEC') 1300
 - Section 414. Constitution of CJEC 1300
 - Section 415. Jurisdiction of CJEC 1302
 - Section 416. References to CJEC under Article 234 (ex Article 177) of EC Treaty 1303
 - Section 417. Remedies against Member States 1308
 - Section 418. Convention on Jurisdiction and the Enforcement of Judgments 1309

Part XXX. Human Rights Act 1998 1311

- Introduction to Part XXX 1311
 - THE CONVENTION RIGHTS (GENERAL) 1317
 - Section 419. Nature of the Convention rights 1317

Section 420. Duty to take account of Convention jurisprudence	1320
COMPATIBILITY OF UK LEGISLATION WITH CONVENTION RIGHTS: I JUDGES' FUNCTIONS	1322
Section 421. <3170> Compatible construction rule	1322
Section 422. Judicial <3283>declaration of incompatibility (primary legislation)	1330
Section 423. Judicial declaration of incompatibility (subordinate legislation)	1333
Section 424. Effect of incompatibility declaration	1333
Section 425. Joinder of Crown where incompatibility declaration expected	1333
COMPATIBILITY OF UK LEGISLATION WITH CONVENTION RIGHTS: II MINISTERS' FUNCTIONS	1334
Section 426. Ministers' statements of compatibility regarding Bills	1334
Section 427. Rectifying of legislation which is subject to incompatibility declaration	1335
Section 428 Rectifying of legislation after finding by ECtHR	1335
Section 429. Consequential amendment of power to make subordinate legislation	1336
Section 430. Content, effect etc of remedial orders	1336
Section 431. Parliamentary control of remedial orders	1337
INCOMPATIBLE ACTS AND OMISSIONS OF UK PUBLIC AUTHORITIES	1338
Section 432. Illegality of incompatible acts and omissions of public authorities	1338
Section 433. Exceptions from liability for incompatible acts and omissions	1341
Section 434. Proceedings for incompatible non-judicial acts and omissions	1341
Section 435. Proceedings for incompatible judicial acts and omissions	1342
Section 436. Relying on incompatible acts and omissions in legal proceedings	1343
Section 437. Remedies for incompatible acts and omissions of public authorities: general	1345
Section 438. Remedies for incompatible acts and omissions: damages	1346
Section 439. Saving for other rights	1347
INDIVIDUAL CONVENTION RIGHTS	1347
Section 440. Article 2 of Convention (right to life)	1347
Section 441. Article 3 of Convention (prohibition of torture)	1348
Section 442. Article 4 of Convention (prohibition of slavery and forced labour)	1350
Section 443. Article 5 of Convention (right to liberty and security)	1350
Section 444. Article 6 of Convention (right to a fair trial)	1353
Section 445. Article 7 of Convention (no punishment without law)	1359
Section 446. Article 8 of Convention (right to respect for private and family life)	1359
Section 447. Article 9 of Convention (freedom of thought, conscience and religion)	1362
Section 448. Article 10 of Convention (freedom of expression)	1363
Section 449. Article 11 of Convention (freedom of assembly and association)	1364
Section 450. Article 12 of Convention (right to marry)	1365
Section 451. Article 14 of Convention (prohibition of discrimination)	1365
Section 452. Article 16 of Convention (restrictions on political activity of aliens)	1367
Section 453. Article 17 of Convention (prohibition of abuse of rights)	1368
Section 454. Article 18 of Convention (limitation on use of restrictions on rights)	1368
Section 455. Article 1 of First Protocol (protection of property)	1368
Section 456. Article 2 of First Protocol (right to education)	1369
Section 457. Article 3 of First Protocol (right to free elections)	1370
Section 458. Article 1 of Thirteenth Protocol (abolition of death penalty)	1370
Section 459. Article 2 of Thirteenth Protocol (death penalty in time of war)	1370
Section 460. Special provision regarding Article 9 (freedom of thought, conscience and religion)	1371
Section 461. Special provision regarding Article 10 (freedom of expression)	1371
INTERPRETATION OF PART XXX	1372
Section 462. Meaning of terms defined in or connected with Human Rights Act 1998	1372
Section 463. Meaning of 'the Convention'.	1376
Section 464. Meaning of 'public authority'.	1377

Appendix A. Court technique	1381
Appendix B. Checklist of interpretative criteria	1383
Appendix C. Updated Text of Interpretation Act 1978	1387
Appendix D Appendix to White Paper on Interpretation Act 1978 (C 30)	1409
Appendix E. List of Terms	1419
Appendix F. Human Rights Act 1998	1425
Appendix G. Headings, Sidenotes etc	1453
Appendix H. Some responses to Code s 288 (updating construction)	1457
Appendix I. Official guide to European Union legislative drafting	1461

Bibliography 1475

Index 1509